The whole Village is responsible for the arrears due, & in an undivided share Village like the one under notice, it is improper to exclude one share & sell the other shares. In the case under notice Four shares Revd. Share was excluded. I think that the sale should be cancelled & the Village re-sold after due notice to all of any of the shares who may wish to save the Village from sale, he should pay up the whole arrear & recover from his Co-sharers any sums due by them, through the Civil Courts. It is not possible for Govt to settle the accounts between the several shares.

In future, if the shares in any village wish to have their shares separated & dealt with for arrears of Revenue, the Dy Comr should take an agreement from all the shares to that effect & issue an order to the Revenue Officer to credit in the accounts the amount paid by each separately, so that each share may be dealt with separately if he fails into arrears.
